

G

- 1.gab – talk, chatter, twaddle
- 2.gabble – talk volubly or inarticulately, read aloud too fast, fast unintelligible talk
- 3.gadfly – a blood sucking fly that distresses cattle; someone who provokes or irritates
- 4.gaff – a hook used especially for landing large fish
- 5.gainsay – to deny; to contradict
- 6.gait – way of walking
- 7.galaxy – the disc-shaped system, composed of spiraling arms of stars, that contains our solar system near its edge; a splendid assemblage
- 8.gall – irritate; annoy; provoke
- 9.galleon – a large vessel mostly used for carrying
10. galore – in abundance
11. galvanize – stimulate; activate; excite
12. gambit – the sacrifice of a piece for the sake of an advantage in timing or position in a game; a trick
13. gambol – to leap; to frisk playfully
14. gamely – playful
15. gamester – a gambler
16. gamut – a range; scope; extent
17. gap – an unfilled space; disparity; stretch

18. gape – to open the mouth wide; to stare with open mouth
19. garble – to misrepresent or falsify by suppression and selection; to jumble
20. gargantuan – enormous; mammoth; a giant of vast appetite
21. gargoyle – a spout, projecting from a roof-gutter; any grotesque figure or person
22. garish – showy; gaudy; glaring
23. garner – acquire; collect; accumulate
24. garnish – adornment; to decorate; to adorn
25. garret – a room just below a sloping roof; attic
26. garrulity – loquacity
27. garrulous – talkative; loquacious
28. gasbag – a person who chatters too much
29. gasconade – a boasting talk; to boast extravagantly
30. gastronome – a lover and connoisseur of good food and wines; an epicure
31. gastronomy – the art or science of good eating
32. gatefold – an oversized page in a book or magazine, intended to be opened out for reading
33. gauche – awkward; clumsy; tactless
34. gaudy – showy; ostentatious
35. gaunt – skeletal; thin; haggard

36. gauntlet – the iron glove of armor; a heavy glove with a long, wide cuff covering the wrist
37. gawk – to stare openly and stupidly
38. gazette – an official newspaper containing lists of government appointments, legal notices, despatches, etc.
39. geisha – a Japanese girl trained to provide entertainment for men
40. gendarme – a man-at-arms; a policeman in full armor
41. genealogy – history of the descent of families; the pedigree of a particular person or family
42. generality – a statement having general application
43. generic – general, applicable to any member of a group or class
44. geniality – courteousness; pleasantness
45. genie – a magical being who carries out a person's wishes
46. genre – a literary or artistic type or style
47. genteel – graceful in manners; polite; cultured; respectable
48. gentry – the class of people next below the rank of nobility
49. genuflect – to bend the knee in worship or respect

50. genus – a class of objects comprehending several subordinate species
51. germane – appropriate; relevant
52. germinal – pertaining to a germ or rudiment
53. germinate – to begin to grow; to cause to sprout
54. gerry mander – to rearrange in the interests of a particular party or candidate
55. gestate – to carry in the womb during the period from conception to birth; to conceive and develop slowly in the mind
56. gesticulate – to make vigorous gestures
57. ghastly – death-like; hideous; deplorable
58. gibber – to utter senseless or inarticulate sounds
59. gibbet – a gallows, esp. one on which criminals were suspended after execution
60. gibe – to scoff; to flout; jeer
61. gibberish – unintelligible or meaningless speech
62. giddy – unsteady; dizzy; light-headed
63. gig – a light two-wheeled carriage
64. gingerly – with extreme wariness and delicate gentleness
65. gist – the main point or pith of a matter

66. gladiator – a man trained to fight with the sword or other weapons at ancient Roman show; person defending or opposing a cause
67. glaze – to cover with a layer of thin semitransparent colour; to give a glassy surface
68. glean – to collect, gather; to gather facts bit by bit
69. glib – fluent and plausible; smooth
70. gloaming – twilight; dusk
71. goat – to eye with intense (usually malicious); to exult
72. glossary – a collection or list of explanation of words
73. glossy – smooth and shining
74. glower – to stare frowningly; to scowl
75. glut – to gorge; to block or choke up; excess; over surplus
76. glutinous – gluey; sticky
77. gluttonous – greedy; insatiable
78. gnarled – contorted; weather beaten; knotty; twisted
79. gnaw – to bite with a scraping or nibbling movement; to distress persistently
80. gnome – a sprite; a goblin
81. gnu – a large African antelope

82. goad – sharp-pointed stick for driving oxen; to incite; to provoke
83. gobbledygook – pompous or unintelligible jargon
84. go-getter – an aggressively enterprising person
85. gorge – a ravine; a gluttonous feed
86. gory – bloody; ghastly; nauseating
87. gouge – a chisel with a hollow blade for cutting grooves or holes; to scoop out
88. gourmand – a person who eats greedily
89. gourmet – a connoisseur of good food and wines; an epicure
90. governess – a woman employed to teach children in a private household
91. granary – a rich grain-growing region; a storehouse for grain
92. grandiloquent – speaking, or expressed bombastically; pompous
93. grandiose – grand or imposing; bombastic; splendid
94. granulate – to form or break into grains or small masses
95. graphic – written, descriptive or diagrammatic representation
96. grapple – struggle; wrestle mentally
97. gratify – to please; to satisfy

98. gratis – without payment; for nothing
99. gratuitous – done or given for nothing; voluntary; uncalled for
100. gratuity – a gift (usually money), separate from and additional to payment made for a service
101. gravity – weightiness; graveness; solemnity; urgency
102. gregarious – associating in flocks and herds; fond of the company of others; sociable
103. grimace – a distortion of the face, in fun, disgust, etc; glare; to make a face
104. grisly – ghastly; frightful
105. grizzly – a set of parallel bars; of grey colour
106. grotesque – bizarre; extravagantly formed; monstrous
107. grotto – a cave; an imitation cave
108. grovel – to humble oneself, behave objectly, e.g. in apologizing; to crawl
109. gruel – a thin food made by boiling oatmeal in water
110. grueling – exhausting; strenuous
111. gruesome – horrible; grisly; macabre
112. gubernatorial – relating to a governor

- 113. guffaw – a loud boisterous laugh; to laugh vociferously
- 114. guile – jugglery; deceit; artfulness
- 115. guileless – without deceit; artless
- 116. gullible – easily deceived or tricked
- 117. gumption – boldness; courage; commonsense
- 118. gunrunner – a person engaged in the illegal sale or importing of firearms
- 119. gustatory – pertaining to the sense of taste
- 120. gusto – enjoyment or vigour

